

INVESTOR WARNING

against Plus500UK Ltd

The Croatian Financial Services Supervisory Agency (hereinafter: Agency) alerts investors and potential investors to the activities of Plus500UK Ltd, 359 Goswell Road, London, Great Britain, carried out in the Republic of Croatia.

Plus500UK Ltd is a company that uses its website <http://www.plus500.com.hr> in the Republic of Croatia to offer Croatian investors opportunities of trading in shares, Forex, raw materials, indices, ETFs and CFDs without authorisation from the Agency.

The Agency warns potential investors that the said company does not have authorisation from the Agency to carry out such activities in the Republic of Croatia pursuant to the Capital Market Act (Official Gazette 88/08, 146/08, 74/09).

The Agency therefore urges investors and potential investors to exercise extreme caution when making a decision about accepting an offer made by Plus500UK Ltd, as the Agency does not monitor the lawfulness of business operations of that company, nor can it have any influence on the protection of rights and interests of investors dealing with companies and/or persons lacking appropriate authorisations and/or licences from the Agency. Furthermore, no claims against such companies are covered by the Investor Protection Fund.

The list of companies possessing authorisation from the Agency to provide investment services and carry out investment activities is available on the website of the Agency: www.hanfa.hr.
