Report on the audit of the financial statements

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Podravka d.d. (the Company), which comprise the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2025, statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including material accounting policy information.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Company as at 31 December 2025 and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the European Union (IFRS).

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report.

We are independent of the Company in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board of Accountants' (IESBA) International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants, including International Independence Standards (IESBA Code), as applicable to audits of financial statements of public interest entities, together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements of public interest entities in Republic of Croatia, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the IESBA Code.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. For each matter below, our description of how our audit addressed the matters is provided in that context.

We have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, our audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to our assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements. The results of our audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for our audit opinion on the accompanying financial statements.

Key Audit Matter	How we addressed Key Audit Matter
Impairment of investments in subsidiaries and related loans Impairments of the Company's investments in subsidiaries and related loans are disclosed in Note 10 Other expenses. In addition, Note 20 Investments in subsidiaries and Note 36 Related party transactions disclose the underlying assets in the financial statements and a description of the accounting policy and key judgements and estimates are included in Note 3 Material accounting policy information and Note 6 Key accounting judgements and estimates, respectively. Management annually performs impairment tests for investments in subsidiaries and related loans where indicators of impairment exists. For investments identified as such, management assesses potential impairment loss by comparing the carrying amount with the recoverable amount. Recoverable amounts are generally measured by using appropriate valuation techniques, such as present value techniques based on management's view of variables and market conditions, the timing of future operating expenditure, and the most appropriate discount and long term growth rates. Due to complexity and judgement used in the assessment of impairment indicators, and the application of valuation techniques, impairment of Company's investments in subsidiaries and related loans is considered a key audit matter.	Audit procedures included understanding of the investment impairment process and walk through of controls implemented within. We examined the methodology used by management to assess the carrying value of respective investment in subsidiaries and related loans to determine its compliance with IFRS and consistency of application. For the investments where impairment indicators were not identified by the Company, we evaluated the management's impairment indicators assessment by considering factors such as insufficient net assets, declining financial performance, or existence of any overdue loans and receivables. We evaluated the assumptions used in the current year assessment of impairment indicators and tested whether these assumptions are in line with the results achieved in the current year as well as current development in the industry and the Company's expectations for the key inputs. In respect of impairment tests performed by management, we evaluated the subsidiaries' future cash flow forecasts and the process by which they were prepared. We compared the budget inputs in the models to the approved budgets and forecast inputs in the models to management plans. We compared current year actual results with the figures included in the prior year forecasts to evaluate assumptions used. We also compared management's key assumption for long-term growth rate by comparing it to historical growth results and market data. We performed audit procedures on the mathematical integrity of the impairment models and sensitivity analysis and tested the appropriateness of discount rates used in the calculation with the assistance of the specialists. We also assessed the completeness of the impairment charges by comparing calculated impairment loss with accounting records. We also assessed on the adequacy of the relevant disclosures in the financial statements and if these are in line with the requirements of the IFRS.

Key Audit Matter	How we addressed Key Audit Matter
Recognition of revenue: valuation of customer discounts, incentives and rebates As indicated in Note 3 Material accounting policy information and Note 8 Sales revenue to the financial statements, the Company recognizes revenue net of volume rebates, trade discounts, returns, listing fees and various promotional and marketing activities that are integral part of contracts with customers. Revenue measurement and presentation therefore involves estimates related to such agreements or actions. At the reporting date, amounts for discounts, incentives and rebates that have been incurred and not yet paid by the customers are estimated and accrued. Due to the variety of contractual terms across the markets, management is required to monitor a large number of individual customer arrangements in order to estimate the discounts, incentives and rebates amounts at the reporting date. This is considered complex and includes risk of incorrect inclusion or non-inclusion of discounts, incentives and rebates in the current period and year-end accruals, or incorrect calculation of these amounts recorded as at the reporting date. Due to the above mentioned, measurement and presentation of these costs is considered a key audit matter due to the judgements required and the number of unique customer arrangements they relate to.	Our audit procedures included understanding of the revenue recognition process including discounts, incentives and rebates recognition and assessing compliance with the policies in terms of applicable accounting standards. We walked through and tested the operation effectiveness of the controls over revenue recognition process. Based on a sample, we assessed revenue transactions, taking place at either side of the balance sheet date as well as credit notes issued after the reporting date to evaluate whether that revenue was recognised in the correct period. We also developed an expectation of the current year sales revenue balance considering historical revenue and discounts, incentives and rebates information, compared it to the actual sales revenues and examined unexpected differences. On a sample of key customers, we inspected respective contractual terms and recalculated the amount of discounts, incentives and rebates. Where our recalculation based on contractual terms differed from management records, we obtained support for the differences to vouch their validity. We obtained customer confirmations of amounts outstanding at the reporting date for a sample of customers and gained understanding of any significant differences between customer confirmations received and the Company's accounting records. We also assessed on the adequacy of the relevant disclosures in the financial statements and if these are in line with the requirements of the IFRS.

Other information

Management is responsible for the other information. Other information comprises information included in the Annual Report, but does not include financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

With respect to the Management Report and Corporate Governance Report, we also performed procedures required by the Accounting Act. Those procedures include considering whether the Management Report is prepared in accordance with the requirements of Article 24 of the Accounting Act and whether the Corporate Governance Report includes the information specified in Article 25 of the Accounting Act.

Based on the procedures undertaken, to the extent we are able to assess it, we report that:

1. the information given in the enclosed Management Report and Corporate Governance Report is consistent, in all material respects, with the enclosed financial statements;
2. the enclosed Management Report is prepared in accordance with requirements of Article 24 of the Accounting Act; and
3. the enclosed Corporate Governance Report includes the information specified in Article 25 of the Accounting Act.

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the Company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit of financial statements, we are also required to report if we have identified material misstatements in the other information. We have nothing to report in this respect.

Responsibilities of management and Audit Committee for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with IFRS, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Audit Committee is responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Shape the future with confidence

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with Audit Committee regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide Audit Committee with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with Audit Committee, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.
